

The Nazis's first enemy was the German organised working class. Within days of the Reichstag fire in February 1933, thousands of Communists had been arrested; 'protective detention' of the left, including trade-union leaders, continued for months. Later, the Nazis treated any German who had fought with the International Brigades as a traitor. Millions of Soviet Prisoners of War died as a result of Nazi barbarism; even as Germany faced final defeat, Soviet POWs were picked out to be killed in the camps. This is the less well known story of those the Nazis were determined to destroy.

Political Victims of the Nazis

Socialist History Society Public Meeting
Saturday 22nd September 2018 2.00pm
MARX MEMORIAL LIBRARY
37a Clerkenwell Green EC1R 0DU
nearest tube Farringdon
FREE TO ATTEND – ALL WELCOME

Speaker:

Merilyn Moos

Chair of the London Retired Members branch of the University and College Union (UCU).

She is author of "Breaking the Silence, Voices of the British Children of Refugees from Nazism", "Beaten But Not Defeated, Siegfried Moos – A German anti-Nazi who settled in Britain", and a novel "The Language of Silence".

SOCIALIST
HISTORY
SOCIETY

The Nazis's first enemy was the German organised working class. Within days of the Reichstag fire in February 1933, thousands of Communists had been arrested; 'protective detention' of the left, including trade-union leaders, continued for months. Later, the Nazis treated any German who had fought with the International Brigades as a traitor. Millions of Soviet Prisoners of War died as a result of Nazi barbarism; even as Germany faced final defeat, Soviet POWs were picked out to be killed in the camps. This is the less well known story of those the Nazis were determined to destroy.

Political Victims of the Nazis

Socialist History Society Public Meeting
Saturday 22nd September 2018 2.00pm
MARX MEMORIAL LIBRARY
37a Clerkenwell Green EC1R 0DU
nearest tube Farringdon
FREE TO ATTEND – ALL WELCOME

Speaker:

Merilyn Moos

Chair of the London Retired Members branch of the University and College Union (UCU).

She is author of "Breaking the Silence, Voices of the British Children of Refugees from Nazism", "Beaten But Not Defeated, Siegfried Moos – A German anti-Nazi who settled in Britain", and a novel "The Language of Silence".

SOCIALIST
HISTORY SOCIETY